NJVVMF 2018 Scholarship Program

Applications will be accepted now through April 13, 2018

"That's why I appreciate the Vietnam Veterans' Memorial. Not only does it serve to provide the American perspective to people like me, but it also recognizes all those soldiers as what they are: heroes. It recognizes all those who died during and after the war. It recognizes the nurses and their services. And it even recognizes the South Vietnamese who fought alongside their own."

-- Teresa Ngo, scholarship winner, 2016.

Each year, the NJVVMF awards two, $2,500 scholarships to graduating NJ high school seniors. The awards can be used for anything the students need as they embark on their education careers.

Eligible students are:

- A NJ resident,
- A graduating high school senior,
- A visitor to the NJ Vietnam Veterans' Memorial and someone who has written a reflective essay based on this experience.

The mission of the NJVVMF includes serving as an educational partner to veterans, their families, visitors, educators, students and patrons. Foundation staff provide access and context to primary resources from the Vietnam War era and also through active engagement of visitors through tours, programming, and -- for students -- this special scholarship opportunity.

If you are an eligible student, please apply. If you know of an eligible student or someone who can help us share this opportunity, please pass this information along.

Applications may be mailed or dropped off at the Vietnam Era Museum through April 13, 2018. All inquiries related to scholarships can be sent to scholarship@njvvmf.org, no phone calls will be accepted.

Free tours are offered each Saturday beginning in February, through the week before the deadline, for scholarship applicants who need to tour and want to talk with Veteran tour guides to help prepare for their essays.
